Banks Distinguished Professor of Psychiatry,
 Professor of Human and Molecular Genetics,
 Medical College of Virginia, Virginia Commonwealth University.

Dr. Kendler received his medical and psychiatric training at Stanford and Yale University, respectively. Since 1983, he has been engaged in studies of the genetics of psychiatric and substance use disorders, including schizophrenia, major depression, alcoholism, smoking and nicotine dependence. He has utilized methods ranging from family studies, to large-sample population-based twin studies to molecular genetic studies aimed at identifying the genomic location of specific genes that influence the vulnerability to schizophrenia, alcoholism and nicotine dependence. Data collection for these studies has been completed in New Zealand, Virginia, Ireland, Northern Ireland, Norway and Sweden. He has published over 500 reviewed journals, has received a number of national and international awards for his work and serves on several Editorial Boards and is Editor of Psychological Medicine. Since 1996, he has served as Director of the Virginia Institute of Psychiatric and Behavioral Genetics.
