Further Your Knowledge.

CONSIDER THE POSSIBILITIES.

Each year, nearly 41 million people will suffer a diagnosable mental disorder ranging from mild depression to crippling schizophrenia. Thanks to progress in research, today's psychiatrists can do more than ever before to help people suffering from mental illness. And there is much more to do. Becoming a psychiatrist can be a rewarding and fulfilling medical career.

As a medical student, you are being invited to use the American Psychiatric Association (APA) as a resource to further your knowledge of psychiatry as a profession – at no cost to you.

MEDICAL STUDENT MEMBERSHIP IS FREE!

USE APA'S MULTITUDE OF RESOURCES AND WORLDWIDE NETWORK to learn about the many aspects of a career in psychiatry – residency training, choosing a fellowship opportunity, building your own practice, and continuing your medical education to keep you on the cutting edge of patient care. Even if psychiatry is not your chosen specialty, mental health issues correlate to many other areas of practice. Start building lifelong professional relationships and tap into our wealth of research and practical information.

Medical student membership is FREE! Join today to take advantage of these benefits, which will help you prepare for your career as a physician:

The Latest Research and Clinical Studies

- Free online subscription to The American Journal of Psychiatry, the most widely read psychiatric journal in the world. Peer-reviewed articles keep you up-to-date on groundbreaking new research in biological psychiatry; clinically proven biopsychosocial treatment innovations; and outlooks on forensic, ethical, economical, and social topics in psychiatry.
- Free online subscription to Psychiatric News, the official bimonthly newspaper of the APA. Stay informed on APA achievements and activities, including the APA Annual Meeting and Institute on Psychiatric Services; receive timely news reports on the latest research findings in psychiatry, newly approved drugs, and clinical advances; and get authoritative perspectives on mental health care and psychiatric practice.
- Free online access to AJP in Advance to view research articles online prior to their appearance in the print edition of the American Journal of Psychiatry.
- Special 20% discount on more than 700 books and journals from American Psychiatric Publishing.

Networking

- Network and connect with colleagues through our social media presence on LinkedIn, Facebook and Twitter and through special APA listservs.
- Free subscription to the Medical Student Newsletter, a helpful publication filled with information specifically for medical students considering a career in psychiatry.

- Free registration to the APA Annual Meeting and Institute on Psychiatric Services.
- Access to our online directory of summer jobs and fellowship opportunities, including minority medical student opportunities for APA travel scholarships and research fellowships.

Practice Tools

- Free copy of Resident's Guide to Surviving Psychiatric Training (upon request).
- Online access to Practice Management for Early Career Psychiatrists.
- Unlimited access to the "members only corner" at www.psych.org – an invaluable professional resource at your fingertips.
