

APA Member Referral Program

Question:

What has been proven as the most effective method for recruiting new members?

Answer:

Members are the best resource for attracting new members to the APA. In fact, members who are referred by their colleagues or mentors tend to remain members longer and contribute more to an organization than those who join on their own.

What can you do:

Refer your colleague or mentee/trainee for APA membership by completing the referral form below and faxing to (703) 907 - 1085. All recruiters who refer a colleague will receive APA recognition.
