

The Selection Committee for the APA/SAMHSA and APA/Zeneca Minority Fellowships is pleased to announce the new and continuing fellows:

2007-2008 APA/SAMHSA FELLOWS

Shirin Ali, a third-year adult psychiatry resident at the Massachusetts General Hospital and Mclean Hospital Adult Psychiatry Residency Training Program, is interested in clinical work and research in the areas of psychosis and religion in underserved populations. She will serve on the Council on Global Psychiatry.

Otis Anderson, a third-year psychiatry resident at the University of Tennessee, is interested in child and adolescent, and addiction psychiatry. He will serve on the Council on Minority Mental Health and Health Disparities.

Aeva Gaymon-Doomes, a third-year psychiatry resident at the University of Maryland and Sheppard Pratt, is interested in adolescent psychiatry and issues pertaining to minority mental health. She will serve on the Council on Advocacy and Public Policy.

Vikramjit Singh Gill, M.D., a fourth-year psychiatry resident at West Virginia University, is interested in the interface of psychiatry, sleep and pain management, and also addiction psychopharmacology. He will serve on the Council on Medical Education and Lifelong Learning.

Helena Hansen, a third year psychiatry resident at NYU Medical Center, is interested in socio-cultural research in addiction and the intersection of social class/ethnicity with mental health. She will serve on the Council on Social Issues and Public Psychiatry.

Vanessa Hernandez, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at Harbor-UCLA Medical Center, is interested in schizophrenia in Hispanics, the impact of mental illness treatment on families, and the effects of immigration in mental health. She will serve on the Committee on Psychiatric Dimensions of Disasters.

Alexander Huang, a third-year psychiatry resident at the University of California Davis Medical Center, is interested in cross-cultural, child and adolescent psychiatry, and psychotherapy. He will serve on the Committee on Psychotherapy by Psychiatrists.

Iman Hypolite, a second-year child and adolescent psychiatry fellow at The Johns Hopkins University, is interested in mental health advocacy for underserved populations and community psychiatry. She will serve on the Committee on Government Relations.

Vikram Kambampati, a third-year psychiatry resident at the University Hospitals, is interested in community and social psychiatry. He will serve on the Council on Healthcare Systems and Financing.

Jennifer Le, a third-year psychiatry resident at the University of California San Francisco, is interested in child and adolescent, community, cultural, and international psychiatry. She will serve on the Committee on Family Violence and Sexual Abuse.

Shirley Liu, M.D., a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the California Pacific Medical Center is interested in Asian American mental health and child & adolescent psychiatry. She will serve on the Committee of Asian-American Psychiatrists.

Karimi Mailutha, a third-year psychiatry resident at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center/New York State Psychiatric Institute, is interested in health services research, child and adolescent psychiatry and international mental health. She will serve on the Committee on Psychiatric Aspects of AIDS.

Melissa Ochoa-Perez, a fifth year child and adolescent psychiatry resident at The Menninger Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, Baylor College of Medicine, is interested in research in the area of adolescent depression and pregnancy. She will serve on the Committee on Women.

Srijan Sen, a third-year psychiatry resident at Yale University, is interested in research investigating the interaction between genes and stress in major depression. He will serve on the Scientific Program Committee.

Nia M. Sipp, a fourth-year general psychiatry resident at the University of Maryland/Sheppard Pratt, is interested in child and adolescent psychiatry and forensic psychiatry. She will serve on the Council on Global Psychiatry.

SuZan Song, a third-year psychiatry resident at Harvard Longwood, is interested in cultural psychiatry, and child and adolescent psychiatry. She will serve on the Committee on Family Violence and Sexual Abuse.

Dan Tzuang, a third-year psychiatry resident at the San Mateo County Mental Health Services, is interested in cross cultural psychiatry, with particular interest in Asian American issues, and child and adolescent psychiatry. He will serve on the Committee of Asian-American Psychiatrists.

Tyrone J. Williams, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the Cambridge Hospital, is interested in ecclesiastical psycho education and child and adolescent psychiatry. He will serve on the Committee on Public Affairs.

Addiction Fellows

Daryl Shorter, a first-year addiction psychiatry fellow at New York University, is interested dual diagnosis, adolescent addiction psychopharmacology, and cross-cultural psychiatry. He will serve on the Council on Addiction Psychiatry.

Jose Vito, a first-year addiction psychiatry fellow at Montefiore, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, is interested in advocacy and public policy on access to mental health care, influence of culture and ethnicity on substance abuse and dependence recovery. He will serve on the Council on Addiction Psychiatry.

Continuing Fellows

Mina Bak, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the San Mateo County Mental Health Services, is on the Committee of Asian-American Psychiatrists.

Tracee Burroughs, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the University of Maryland, is on the Council on Social Issues & Public Psychiatry. She was elected to represent the fellows on the Board of Trustees.

Sean Chappin, a first-year addiction fellow at New York University, is on the Council on Addiction Psychiatry, and was elected by the fellows to represent them on the Joint Reference Committee.

Laila F.M. Contractor, a first-year child and adolescent psychiatry fellow at Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic in Pittsburgh, is on the Council on Advocacy & Public Policy.

Eugene Lee, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, will serve on the Committee on Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual Issues.

Moises Martinez, a third-year psychiatry resident at Harlem Hospital, is on the Committee on Ethnic Minority Elderly.

Shunda McGahee, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the Mass General/McLean Psychiatric Residency, is on the Committee on Ethnic Minority Elderly.

Carolyn Nguyen, a first-year child and adolescent psychiatry fellow at the UCLA Semel Institute for Neuroscience and Human Behavior, is on the Council on Children, Adolescents, & Their Families.

Pablo Sanchez-Barranco, a second-year addiction psychiatry fellow at New York University, is on the Council on Addiction Psychiatry.

Rachael Smith, a first-year child and adolescent psychiatry fellow at the University of California at Davis, is on the Council on Minority Mental Health & Health Disparities.

Natalie Weder, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the Yale University School of Medicine, is on the Committee of Hispanic Psychiatrists.

Eduardo Zaidner, a third-year psychiatry resident at the Cambridge Hospital, is on Committee on Gay, Lesbian & Bisexual Issues.

2007-2009 ASTRAZENECA FELLOWS

Jimmark Abenojar, a third-year psychiatry resident at the San Mateo County Mental Health Services, is interested in cultural psychiatry, minority mental health, community and public psychiatry, as well as correctional mental health. He will serve on the Council on Minority Mental Health and Health Disparities.

Icelini Garcia-Sosa, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the SUNY Downstate Medical Center, is interested in psychotherapy, culture and psychiatry, creativity and the arts with emphasis on language. She will serve on the Committee of Residents and Fellows (CORF).

Karinn Glover, a third-year psychiatry resident at the Zucker Hillside Hospital, is interested in psychiatric epidemiology, consult-liaison, child and adolescent, and public psychiatry. She will serve on the Council on Global Psychiatry.

Maria Cristina Mendoza, a third-year psychiatry resident at the NYU School of Medicine, is interested in child and adolescent, and public and community psychiatry. She will serve on the Council on Medical Education and Lifelong Learning.

April Morciglio, a third-year psychiatry resident at Palmetto Health/University of South Carolina, is interested in community psychiatry. She will serve on the Committee on Psychiatric Dimensions of Disasters.

Jacob Moussai, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at Yale University School of Medicine, is interested in neurobehavior and neuropsychiatry research. He will serve on the Council on Research.

Kehinde Ogudipe, a second-year psychiatry resident at the Drexel University, College of Medicine, is interested in administrative and geriatric psychiatry, particularly pertaining to women. She will serve on the Council on Minority Mental Health and Health Disparities.

Anne Ruminjo, a second-year psychiatry fellow at Beth Israel Medical Center, is interested in public, and consultation/liaison psychiatry. She will serve on the Council on Global Psychiatry.

Helen Witte, a second-year psychiatry resident at the University of Maryland, is interested in public and community psychiatry, and consultation/liaison psychiatry. She will serve on the Council on Advocacy and Public Policy.

Benjamin Woo, a third-year psychiatry resident at UCLA-Kern, is interested in improving quality of care in the psychiatric emergency setting and geriatric research in the area of late-life depression. He will serve on the Committee on Access and Effectiveness of Psychiatric Services for the Elderly.

2006-2008 ASTRAZENECA FELLOWS

Rascha Dughly, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the University of Maryland/Sheppard Pratt, is on the Council on Global Psychiatry.

Umonoibalo Ehimare, a psychiatry resident at the University of Missouri - Columbia, is on the Council on Children, Adolescents & Their Families.

Leesha Ellis-Cox, completed a child and adolescent psychiatry fellowship and is now a second-year community psychiatry fellow at Emory University School of Medicine, is on the Council on Advocacy & Public Policy.

Jacqueline Henschke, a first-year child and adolescent psychiatry fellow at Stanford University, is on the Committee on Psychiatric Dimensions of Disasters.

Liwei Hua, a third-year psychiatry resident at University of Maryland/Sheppard Pratt, is on the Council on Children, Adolescents & Their Families.

Ha Mistry, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at the University of California, Davis Medical Center, is on the Council on Social Issues & Public Psychiatry.

Vernon Nathaniel, a fourth-year psychiatry resident at Howard University Hospital, is on the Council on Aging.

Leo Noragbon, a first-year geriatric psychiatry fellow at Emory University, is on the Council on Aging.

Alejandra Postlethwaite, a second-year child and adolescent psychiatry fellow at the University of California at Los Angeles, is on the Council on Minority Mental Health & Health Disparities.

Rogelio Samorano, fourth-year psychiatry resident at the University of California at San Diego, is on the Council on Social Issues & Public Psychiatry.

